

JUMPSTART

Virginia Tech Corporate Research Center

JumpStart Virtual Residency:

Although very early stage companies may not need permanent office space, many do need a real street address, an office phone system, and a respectable place to conduct important meetings. The JumpStart Virtual Residency option offers startups the look and feel of a well-established enterprise without the expense of leasing a private office.

JumpStart Community:

JumpStart Community is a flexible, open-plan and private office workspace in the Virginia Tech Corporate Research Center. We serve independent business owners and startup founders seeking an office environment in which to work on their enterprises. The JumpStart Community provides access to professional resources and services as well as opportunities for networking and project collaboration among individuals in an open-plan office atmosphere.
